SETTLE PACKING HOUSE STRIKE

QUESTIONS IN DISPUTE TO BE ARBITRATED

All Employees Who Went Out Will Be Taken Back Within a Specified Time—All Plants Will Be Running by Friday.

Chicago, July 20.—The strike of packing house employees, begun nine days ago and which has demoralized the packing industry throughout the country, was settled here to night at a conference between representatives of packers and all unions employed at the stock yards. The whole controversy will be submitted to a board of arbitrators, both sides agreeing to abide by whatever decision this board may reach. Pending the decision of the arbitrators the men will be taken back to work as rapidly as possible, and it is agreed by packers all old employees are to be reinstated within forty-five days from the date work is resumed. If any former employees are still unemployed at the expiration of that time such persons are to have the privilege of submitting their cases to the arbitration board for settlement. Strikers will return to work as soon as they can be notified of peaceable adjustment, and it is expected by Friday morning everything will be in normal shape at all plants in the different cities where employees are out.

Half an hour after the decision was reached to night to arbitrate President Donnelly, the strike leader, had got into communication by long distance telephone with leaders in outside cities and had notified them a satisfactory settlement was reached and directed strikers to return to work as soon as possible. Settlement of the difficulty by arbitration was brought about by the allied crafts at the stock yards, who would have become involved in the controversy had it continued much longer. Representatives of these unions, representing 14,000 men, got together yesterday and sent a final appeal to the packers asking for a three-sided conference to day between packers, strikers and themselves in a final effort to get both sides of the controversy together again and arrange some sort of agreement which would prevent the strike spreading to affiliated unions. This appeal received a favorable response from the packers and to day's conference was the result.

The agreement reached at to night's conference is practically the same as the proposition made last Saturday to the packers by Donnelly. The only difference is that in Saturday's communication Donnelly insisted strikers be all taken back to work within seven days. This the packers refused, although they agreed to accept every other demand made by Donnelly. When the men return to work it will be under exactly the same conditions as prevailed before the strike was declared, with the exception of the question of the wage scale, to be decided by arbitration.

St. Paul, July 20.—Both employers and strikers expressed great pleasure on receipt of news from Chicago that the packing strike was settled.

Kansas City, July 20.—Packers refused to discuss the settlement of the strike because they had not received details of the agreement. At strike headquarters the news was received with much satisfaction.

St. Joseph, Mo., July 20.—News of settlement of the strike was joyfully received by all unions here to night. The men regarded the agreement as a victory for their side.

Omaha, July 20.—Judge Munger of the federal court to day issued an injunction restraining strikers from "picketing" the packing house district. The injunction was granted on application of packing house managers.

St. Paul, July 20.—South St. Paul butcher union officials raised the strike blockade at the Swift plant to day pending further instructions from Chicago.

FATHER AND SON DROWNED.
Grinnell, Iowa, July 20.—Henry C. Spencer, a prominent banker of this place, and his son, Clarke H. Spencer, were drowned to night in Arbor lake. While out in a launch Clarke fell overboard and the father jumped after him. Both struck out for shore, Spencer reaching it safely, but plunged in again after his son and both went down a few feet from the bank. Spencer was treasurer of Iowa college, Grinnell, and a prominent citizen.

WELTHY MAN SUFFERS.
Chicago, July 20.—The dead body of August Junge, who had been identified with the baking industry in Chicago for forty-three years and who founded the Junge & Junge bakery at Heister & Junge in 1880, was found to day in a pantry in the basement of his home. A gas jet had been turned on. The coroner's jury returned a verdict of suicide while temporarily insane. Ill health and suffering from heat is given as the motive.

REGISTRATIONS.
Yankton, S. D., July 20.—Over 7,000 registered for Rosebud land here to day bringing the total at this point up to 46,670. The crush of visitors in town is unprecedented.

ANOTHER DEMOCRAT FOR ROOSEVELT

Ex-Minister Strauss Says Party Lacking in Courage—Parker's Telegram Bryan Victory.

New York, July 20.—Oscar Strauss, a lifelong Democrat and minister to Turkey under President Cleveland, refuses to support Judge Parker and the Democratic ticket. He says that the refusal of the St. Louis convention to incorporate a sound money plank in its platform after the receipt of Judge Parker's telegram was a Bryan victory. A party that has not the courage or the wisdom to take such necessary action in regard to sound money does not, he asserts, deserve to be entrusted with power. In accordance with these views Mr. Strauss has sent the following letter to President Roosevelt:

"My Dear Mr. President: Though I have always been a Democrat, my admiration for your fearless devotion to right in its highest sense and my esteem for your wisdom and courageous conservatism makes it a privilege no less than a duty to dedicate my best services to your election. Faithfully yours,"

"Oscar Strauss."

IOWA REPUBLICANS

Harmonious Convention Held and Candidates for State Offices Nominated.

Des Moines, July 20.—The following ticket was nominated by the Republicans of Iowa this afternoon:

Secretary of state—W. B. Martin, Adair. Treasurer—G. S. Gibertson, Winnebago. Auditor—B. F. Carroll, David. Attorney general—C. W. Mullan, Blackhawk.

Supreme judge—H. E. Deemer, Montgomery.

Railroad commissioner—N. S. Ketchum, Marshall.

Electors at-large—Col. E. H. Ormsby, Palo Alto, and J. H. Trewin, Linn.

The convention was notably harmonious, every candidate but railroad commissioner being nominated by acclamation. Ketchum won the railroad commissionership in two ballots, defeating his opponents with ease.

The session was one of the briefest held in years and was marked by but one enthusiastic demonstration, that which greeted Governor Cummins when his name was read in resolutions before the convention. The delegates cheered for several minutes until the governor made a short speech.

Cummins' speech was unique in that he aligned himself fully for the campaign with the dominant faction in the party, which is opposed to him. He declared himself in perfect accord with the address of Congressman Hepburn, leading stand-patter, and as he continued in this harmonious vein he was accorded an ovation.

Resolutions adopted are brief and include nothing to give offense to the Iowa idea, in fact, although the standpoint majority had it in its power to do so.

The resolutions endorse the national platform, administration of President Roosevelt and nomination of Roosevelt and Fairbanks. The Iowa delegation in congress is endorsed and also the administration of Governor Cummins.

Over the clause endorsing Cummins there was prospect of some fight in the resolutions committee. The original draft of the platform did not contain the governor's name. An amendment to mention his name specifically was offered and immediately afterward a motion was made to lay the amendment on the table. After half an hour's discussion the committee unanimously agreed to include the governor's name.

WINNERS OF BUTTER TESTS.
St. Louis, July 20.—Names of winners in the first two of the four butter tests to be made at the fair were announced to day. In the first test W. F. Stahlman of Loretto, Minn., H. H. Jensen of Clark Grove, Minn., and M. Sundergast of Hutchinson, Minn., tied for high score on creamery butter, each securing 98% points.

In the second test W. A. Fadden of Plato, Minn., N. C. Slevelling of Kenota, Minn., and W. B. Johnson of Arlington, Iowa, tied on creamery butter with 98% points each.

HAS JOINED DOWIE.
Des Moines, July 20.—E. M. Billingson, a wealthy commission merchant and one of the most influential residents of the state, has left for Zion City with his wife, where he will transfer all of his wealth and palatial home in this city, valued at $75,000, to Dowie. His two beautiful daughters, Misses Josephine and Elizabeth Billingson, leaders in society, will remain here. They have secured positions as stenographers.

HATED TOBACCO.
Franklin, Pa., July 20.—Millionaire Samuel P. McCalmont, who died last week, cut off in his will all those members of his family who indulge in the use of tobacco in any form or quantity. The entire estate is placed in the hands of executors, who are to divide the proceeds annually among only those of the children who are total abstainers from the use of tobacco and drink.

BANNER DAY FOR THE ELKS

PARADE PARTICIPATED IN BY THOUSANDS

Grand Lodge Has One of Most Exciting Sessions in History—F. C. Robinson Elected Grand Secretary by Small Majority.

Cincinnati, July 20.—Elks assembled here called this their banner day, not only for the grand lodge but also of the order. During the day they had a parade which Chief Marshal Dunne estimated at ten miles long, with over 15,000 uniformed men in line and many floats and other designs. There were forty bands, averaging thirty pieces. Following the parade were barbecues in parks. While all of the entertainments were in progress late in the afternoon and evening the grand lodge was having one of the most exciting sessions in its history.

After being in session almost all night the grand lodge had elected all officers except grand secretary. There has not only been much agitation over the administration of retiring Secretary Reynolds, but also an unusual contest for his place. A hard fight was made against the so-called "administration slate," and it was broke off in several places last night and it had a hard struggle to day when Robinson was elected grand secretary by a majority of only two. After repeated ballots last night for grand secretary, the first ballot to day resulted:

F. C. Robinson, Dubuque, Iowa, 313; T. R. A. Burke, Richmond, Va., 288; David L. Watson, Terre Haute, Ind., 91; Charles Stager, Toledo, 16.

There were several scattering votes, but still the total vote was less than half the membership, and it was still less on the succeeding ballot, when the name of Frank T. Hier, of Cincinnati, was presented, and there were only 540 votes cast, as follows:

Robinson, 273; Burke, 213; Watson, 44; Hier, 6; Stager, 4.

Robinson had six more votes than all others, but only two more than necessary for election.

When it was announced Robinson finally had a majority over all his friends carried him down the center aisle on a chair and there was a great demonstration. Robinson is an unusually small man and he was carried around on the shoulders of his friends for some time and at times tossed from one to the other like a football ball.

In the contest for the next convention Buffalo won.

To morrow morning the "session of sorrow" will be held with many events for afternoon and evening.

Official awards in band contests gave first prize of $1,000 for a band of thirty or more men to the Second Illinois regiment band, Chicago; second prize, $250, to Robertson's band, Cleveland. For bands of less than thirty members first prize of $500 was given to the Baltimore band and second to the Buffalo band.

ANNIVERSARY CEREMONY.
Rome, July 20.—The pope assisted at solemn mass in St. Peter's this morning, the anniversary of the death of Leo XIII. Ambassadors and ministers, cardinals and about five thousand persons were present. Owing to the anniversary ceremony all Vatican business was suspended. Including consideration of the communication from the French government asking for withdrawal of letters demanding resignations of the bishops of La Val and Dijon.

WANTS TO WEAR PANTS.
Kansas City, July 20.—Virgie Wilson, the 15-year-old girl from Kansas who was fined $10 in police court here for wearing male attire on the streets, still refuses to wear skirts. She was unable to pay the fine and was taken to the work house. The guards at the work house offered her a dress and other articles of clothing worn by women, but she would not accept them, saying overalls suited her perfectly.

SUPERINTENDENT OF MAILS.
Washington, July 20.—The postoffice department has received notification of appointment of Guy Adams, division passenger agent of the Delaware & Lackawanna railroad, as general superintendent of mails of the Rock Island road, with headquarters at Chicago.

CANDIDATE DEPOSED.
St. Louis, July 20.—W. T. Scott, presidential candidate of the National Negro Liberty party, now serving a twenty days sentence in the Belleville, Ill., jail, charged with keeping a disorderly house, has been deposed, and Judge George E. Taylor, of Ottumwa, Iowa, chosen in his stead.

MACCABEES.
Detroit, July 20.—The question of advancing rates of the order was taken up at to day's session of the supreme tent, Knights of Macabees of the World. After preliminary statement of various arguments advanced for and against a change and outline of proposed new systems of rating the matter was made special order for to morrow.

MRS. MAYBRIK FREE

Goes to France When Released by English Authorities—Comes to America Later.

Truro, Cornwall, England, July 20.—Mrs. Florence Maybrick is free. She left here at 11:40 this morning for France. With blue-robed sisters softly uttering blessings and good wishes for the future, Mrs. Maybrick left the convent of the Sisterhood of Epiphany and with two companions entered a carriage and was driven rapidly to Bluestell station, fourteen miles away, where she boarded a train and started on her journey to France. She will not go to America until her presence is imperatively necessary. The greatest secrecy was thrown around Mrs. Maybrick's departure.

THE VATICAN AND FRANCE.
Paris, July 20.—The text of Foreign Minister Declasse's note addressed to the Vatican was communicated to the council of ministers to day. It creates a decisive issue asking for withdrawal of letters by which the Vatican called for the resignation of Bishops Geay and Nordez. Otherwise all relations between France and the Vatican will be broken off.

LEFT THE GRAVE.
Hammond, Ind., July 20.—While 3,000 morbidly curious persons struggled for position about the "grave," several women being hurt in the crush, Harry Zirkel, of Chicago, was taken from the resting place at Wolf Lake park in which he had lain in a hypnotic trance since 3 p. m. Sunday and revived at 10 o'clock last night. The coffin was taken from the hole and carried to a platform with raised seats, one side of which collapsed, pitching scores of persons to the ground. Several were injured, but not seriously.

Marat, the hypnotist, then proceeded to bring Zirkel out of his trance, seemingly with great effort. The subject was very weak, but soon was in a normal condition mentally.

FIGHT WITH INDIANS.
Tucson, Ariz., July 20.—Capt. Colso Gomez and two companies of Mexican regulars returned from a twenty days campaign in Yuma county and report coming upon a party of fifty Indians Monday at Las Guisimas, Sonora county. In the act of holding up a wagon train bound for the San Jose ranch of Albert Robinson, an American, five Indians were killed, many wounded and twenty prisoners taken. The prisoners will be deported to Yucatan. A number of Mexicans were wounded, though not badly.

WATCHING STRIKE.
President Interested in Trouble at Chicago and Other Cities.

Oyster Bay, July 20.—President Roosevelt is watching closely developments of the big strike at Chicago and other cities. By his express direction the department of labor and commerce is collecting information regarding the strike for probable future use. The president deeply regrets the conflict between capital and labor, and it is known he regards the situation grave.

MISSOURI DEMOCRATS.
Jefferson City, July 20.—The credentials committee's report was not presented to the Democratic state convention until nearly midnight and was adopted. Judge W. W. Graves, of Butler, was made permanent chairman.

The platform pledges support to Parker, favors taxation of corporations the same as individuals, equal rights of labor and capital. The principal plank is in regard to bribery, which it declares is the paramount issue before the people of Missouri. The platform favors passage of laws making professional lobbying in the legislature and pledges the "governor elected on our ticket to protect all interests from sandbag measures, to see that equal and exact justice is done to all and special privileges given to none."

The convention then proceeded to nominate a candidate for governor.

At 2:45 this (Thursday) morning no nomination had been made.

HORSES KILLED.
Marshalltown, Iowa, July 20.—Two horses were killed and their jockeys injured, one seriously, in a half mile running race here to day. Joe Woster, owned by D. Staps, of Belleplaine, fell dead after finishing the race injuring Jockey John Emery. Tom Wallace, owned by C. M. Poffenberger, of Maquoketa, fell over the dead horse and broke his neck. His rider, Charles Kelly, of Springfield, Ill., was thrown and on top of him fell another horse and rider. Kelly may not live.

MILLIONAIRE MISSING.
New York, July 20.—Henry Tudor, a Boston millionaire, is reported to have disappeared from a hotel here. There is no trace of his whereabouts.

RUSSIAN RULER DISPLEASED

AT POSSIBILITY OF COMPLICATIONS

His Attitude May Lead to Amicable Adjustment of Differences With Great Britain—Reports From Scene of Trouble.

St. Petersburg, July 21, 1:12 a. m.—The Associated Press has just been informed the emperor in an interview with Foreign Minister Lamadorff expressed his displeasure at the turn events had taken and at the possibility of complications with Great Britain arising out of detention of British ships by the Russian volunteer fleet of steamers in the Red sea. This pacific attitude, if the report be correct, will doubtless lead to immediate and amicable adjustment of the difficulties.

So increased are the people over possible complications with England that the war is temporarily forgotten. The city is filled with wild rumors, one to the effect the British Mediterranean squadron is about to sail for the Bosphorus, but none of the rumors receive serious consideration.

All embassies and legations telegraphed news of England's protest of their governments, and to night wires between St. Petersburg and Port Said are hot with messages.

A HOSTILE FEELING.
London, July 20.—The Associated Press to night interviewed many prominent persons connected and in close touch with the government relative to the seizure of British vessels by steamers of the Russian volunteer fleet in the Red sea. As a result of these inquiries there is shown to be a remarkable hostile feeling against Russia of strength and bitterness almost without precedent since the Crimean war. Even the most conservatives who have been in the service of the government for years, and who deplored the haste with which they thought Great Britain plunged into the Transvaal war, to night, frankly declared for a policy of reprisal against what is regarded as Russia's violation of treaties and her piratical attack on British commerce.

The warlike tone of such papers as the Times, Standard, Post and Telegraph, which in national crises hitherto almost invariably advised caution, has had its inevitable effect. There has been stirred up a storm of indignation among all classes, the strength of which the government itself can scarcely gauge. Those who deplored the outbreak of war between Japan and Russia and insisted publicly and privately Great Britain, crippled financially after her South African experience, must not at all costs be drawn into the far eastern struggle, are now amongst the most outspoken champions of physical force that will prevent repetition of the Malacca incident. Those few officials at the foreign office who are in full possession of all details of Great Britain's desire to arrive at an entente with Russia are in despair. They realize the policy so carefully guarded by King Edward and Lansdowne would now be indignantly repudiated by all parties in common, and involve with the public downfall of any ministry advocating it. Every nerve will be strained, however, by the foreign office to secure from Russia an explanation that will pacify the British public and no step will be taken officially that will tend to prejudice subsequent diplomatic negotiations looking to settlement of all important questions now outstanding between Russia and Great Britain.

According to a Mail dispatch from Port Said the Malacca is in charge of a Russian midshipman. The same dispatch declares the union jack was torn down by the Russian prize crew. The captain of the Malacca asserts the capture was made within the three-mile limit.

The Telegraph approves the course adopted by Lansdowne and declares if the Russian volunteer fleet passed the Dardanelles as merchant vessels they cannot be allowed to scour the Red sea as warships. The Telegraph declares, after pointing out what it terms illegality of the Russian action:

"In any circumstance we think it may be assumed the Malacca will never be navigated by a prize crew to any Russian port. She is watched, if not actually stopped, by British warships and she will, in any case, be restored to her owners long before she can be taken through the Dardanelles or navigated to Libau."

"This emergency, in some respects, is the most critical that has marked our relations with Russia in the last twenty years and in the face of the inflated state of public opinion in St. Petersburg it would be unwise to blind ourselves to existence of possibilities that would otherwise be unthinkable. This country has adopted with decision and composure an attitude from which there can be no retreat or flinching. We seek simple redress for aviolent and unprovoked injury."

This pronouncement, from an organ so notoriously inspired, with its open reference to war, adds enormously to a situation that already was grave enough.

WAR REPORTS.
Port Said, July 20.—The crew and passengers of the Panina and Orient steamers, Malacca, seized by the Russian volunteer fleet in the Red sea, have been landed here. The ship is detained by the authorities, who are waiting instructions before further action. The Malacca's crew was declared prisoners. The Malacca is declared to have on board contraband articles for Japan. The cargo includes forty tons of explosives for Hong Kong.

The British captain and crew complain of Russian treatment. The former carried the protest to such length he was threatened with arrest unless he desisted.

Tokio, July 20.—The Vladivostok squadron overhauled a Japanese steamer eastward of Tsugaru straits. The name of the vessel and fate were not learned.

Tokio, July 20.—The Russian Vladivostok, unaccompanied by torpedo boats, entered the Pacific ocean to day. The destination is unknown, but it is suggested it is possibly a plan to raid the east coast of Japan and then either return to Vladivostok and occupying to the southward, or attempting to form a junction with the Port Arthur fleet. Warnings have gone out to shipping along the eastern coast and Japanese merchantmen are hurriedly seeking cover.

The Vladivostok squadron has released the seized merchantman. A Japanese torpedo boat is pursuing the squadron.

St. Petersburg, July 20.—Sir Charles Hardinge, British ambassador to Russia, this afternoon, on behalf of his government, presented a strong protest to Russia against the seizure in the Red sea and detention of the steamer Malacca; also presented a general protest against the action of the volunteer Russian fleet of steamers in the Red sea.

London, July 20.—Opposition leaders in common have allowed it to be understood they are prepared to support the government in representations to Russia in regard to seizure of the steamer Malacca.

Paris, July 20.—It is believed in official circles Russia will release the German merchantman seized in the Red sea to avert complications.

Washington, July 20.—The Japanese legation has received the following cablegram from the foreign office at Tokio:

"At 9:30 a. m. July 20 the Vladivostok squadron fired on and sunk a Japanese steamboat of 318 tons off the coast of Izoia, about twenty-five miles from Hakodate. All the crew were landed safely at Cape Yosan."

Paris, July 20.—The Temps, discussing passage of the Vladivostok squadron through the Straits of Tsugaru, says its purpose is either to attack unprotected cities on the east coast of Japan or to intercept American merchant steamers, which are supplying Japan with all sorts of provisions through Yokohama.

St. Petersburg, July 20.—Kurapatkin this evening reports a considerable column of Japanese advancing along the northern Saimaizaa Liao Yang road.

The great importance of appearance of the Japanese on the northern road is that if the advance should be pushed Keller's position in the Liao valley would be outflanked, as would later on the strong Russian position at Llandanshan, which commands the Feng Wang Cheng high road and two minor roads from Simouehien and Shuyen over which the Japanese would advance to the north. Once outflanked here the road to Liao Yang would be open.

On the other hand advance beyond Hailatze would give Keller opportunity by energetic movement to strike this column in the rear. The bulk of the Russian army is within striking distance and only a single day's march separates them.

DAVIS VISITS JUDGE PARKER

DEMOCRATIC CANDIDATES HOLD CONFERENCE

What They Talked About Not Known—Taggart May Be Made Chairman if Gorman Finally Refuses Position.

New York, July 20.—The conference of Democratic leaders, which has been in progress several days ended to day when several of the most prominent of them left the city. Ex-Senator Davis, Democratic candidate for vice president, and National Committeeman Mack left to day to visit Judge Parker.

Senators N. Y., July 20.—Judge Parker and his running mate, Senator Davis, had a three hours' conference to day, but none but themselves know what they talked about. The only positive result of the meeting made known was Judge Parker's announcement that notifications of the nominations would take place in the candidates' respective states—Parker at Rosemont and Davis at White Sulphur Springs. Senator Davis left for New York this evening.

TAGGART MAY BE CHAIRMAN.
Senators, July 20.—The bulk of opinion here to day is if Senator Gorman finally refuses the chairmanship of the national committee National Committeeman Taggart will be chosen.

New York, July 20.—There is still belief among Democratic politicians that Gorman is a possibility for national chairmanship, but no one seems authorized to speak for the senator. The sectional question has arisen in connection with the chairmanship and it is being pushed to some extent by friends of Thomas Taggart. Both candidates on the national ticket are from the east and it is said that to take the chairman from the same section will look like ignoring the west, where electoral votes are sought. Taggart arrived to day, but has not yet met any of the Democratic leaders here.

VICTIM OF NEGROES.
Indianapolis, July 20.—Lying by the roadside, with her throat cut, the victim of an attack by two negroes, Inez Reeser, daughter of a wealthy farmer of West Newton, was found last night by passing parties. The only clue to her assailants is found in a letter which the girl was writing when she was taken from her home and in which she mentions two strange men who were prowling about the place. She was not dead when found and cried, "Oh, the negroes," and became unconscious. It is thought she cannot live.

INJURED IN LITCHFIELD WRECK

James Fizzell Now Lying in Wabash Hospital Tell of the Awful Experience He Passed Through.

James Fizzell, the Taylorville man who was severely injured in the Litchfield wreck, has given a vivid description of the catastrophe. He seems to have been very cool and collected and to have taken in everything that happened. Mr. Fizzell was sitting next to T. R. Mills, talking to him when the crash came. Mr. Fizzell is at the Wabash hospital in Decatur and told his experiences to a Decatur newspaper man. In telling his experience he said:

"When I first entered the car I took a seat two or three seats behind Mr. Mills, but there were three or four fine leather valises there and one or two had been opened only momentarily, so I got up and took the chair beside Mr. Mills.

"We were talking about the crop conditions. I had remarked that the corn looked a little better north of us than farther south, and he said: 'Yes, I believe it is a little better north, but it is all backward.' Those are the last words he said.

"The crash came and we could see the progress of the destruction of the car clear up to the time we were caught. I said, 'A wreck!' but I did it almost unconsciously, and I doubt if Mr. Mills even heard me. There was so much noise there, so many noises, and everything was going to pieces.

"First the head rests broke off the chairs, then the front end of the car began crumbling up. We were not thrown forward, but the work of destruction came back toward us. The backs of the seats in front were broken in two and ripped open. The up-ramp was denting, but I didn't hear anyone shouting at that time.

"It was all done in a moment. I felt myself bound down and at once began testing myself to see if I had been injured. I took a deep breath and forced my chest full of air, but felt no pain, and I concluded that I was all right as far as any internal injury was concerned.

Only my head and right arm were above the wreckage. I knew that one of my legs was broken, because there was no feeling in it at all, but I could move the toes in the other foot and felt that that leg was all right. My right arm appeared to be in pretty good condition, but my left arm was hanging down among the debris, and it too, was broken and the wrist dislocated.

"It seemed quite a while before any one passed. When I saw a man I called to him to get me out. He said, 'I can't get in there now to get you out.'

"Just then I noticed a little boy whose feet had caught on something near my right hand and he was hanging head down. Here, I'll loosen this boy's feet and you can take him out and then come back and get me. The boy hasn't made a sound, but he's not dead.

"I loosened the boy's feet and the man went out with him and then came back for me. I put my good arm over his shoulder and told him to pull like a horse running away. He did and I got partly out, when my broken leg, which was hanging loose, caught in the seat and I stopped until

I could release it with my left hand. Then he gave me another pull and had me out.

"By that time there were three or four other men there and they carried me over beside the tracks and laid me down. You pulled me over the body of a woman; you must go back and get that woman out," I said, and the men went back. I learned later that she was being held down by her hair having caught on something and they had to cut her hair off to get her out.

"When the man first told me that he could not help me then, I said that he must, for the wreck would surely catch fire. You can imagine my feelings when he said: 'It is already afire,' and of course I begged him not to let me stay there and burn up. I laid there beside the track and watched those cars burn up, and it was 12:30 that night before my wounds were dressed.

"I asked for Mr. Mills as soon as I got to the Litchfield hospital, and they told me he was dead."

CURED OF CHRONIC DIARRHOEA AFTER TEN YEARS OF SUFFERING.

"I wish to say a few words in praise of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy," says Mrs. Mattie Burge, of Martinsville, Va. "I suffered from chronic diarrhoea for ten years and during that time tried various medicines without obtaining any permanent relief. Last summer one of my children was taken with cholera morbus, and I procured a bottle of this remedy. Only two doses were required to give her entire relief. I then decided to try the medicine myself, and did not use all of one bottle before I was well and I have never since been troubled with that complaint. One cannot say too much in favor of that wonderful medicine." This remedy is for sale by all leading druggists.

MANY SPEAKERS FOR CAMPAIGN

Illinois Republican Leaders Mapping Out Plans—Cortelyou Coming West—The Wisconsin Case.

An abundance of Republican oratory is promised Illinois during the coming national campaign. Officers of the national committee have informed Chairman West and Chairman Reddick that Cook county and the state can have all the speakers they want.

This is something unusual. Heretofore it has been difficult to secure the services of more than three or four speakers of national reputation during a presidential contest. Never before has word been sent out in advance that the committee will be prepared to supply any and all demands for "way out talent."

But this is to be a speaking campaign and there will be no lack of speakers. It is understood that Chairman Cortelyou and Secretary Dover have enlisted the services of every Republican in the country of known oratorical ability, and many whose reputation do not extend beyond the boundaries of their respective home states.

"They have notified us," said Chairman Reddick of the Cook county committee, "that we can have any number of speakers we may want. The notices informed us that the greatest aggregation of talent ever put upon the stump is being organized. Four years ago it was difficult to get a speaker of national renown for Chicago. Chairman Hanna made a few speeches for us, and we succeeded in getting Senator Depew for one or two speeches. The only other stars the national committee would give us were Senator Foraker, Senator Dooliver, Senator Beveridge and two or three congressmen. This time it looks as if we would be able to get all the big guns."

According to Mr. Reddick, officials of the national committee are also endeavoring to ascertain just what the people are talking about when they talk politics, especially national politics. They are asking state chairmen and leaders in the large cities to give them some idea of the issue that appears to be uppermost in the minds of the voters at present.

Messages received in Chicago stated that Chairman Cortelyou would be there immediately after the committee calls on President Roosevelt and notifies him of his nomination and that he would give his attention, almost from the first, to a settlement of the Wisconsin controversy. It is said that the chairman has invited the principals of both the La Follette and stalwart factions to meet him at the Auditorium headquarters on Aug. 1 for the purpose of seeing what could be done to adjust their differences.

As to the Illinois and Cook county situations, it is understood that there will be meetings of both state and county committees early next week to approve the appointments and makeup of subcommittees.

Some interesting details are published as to the condition of the unhappy ex-Empress Charlotte, the widow of the unfortunate Maximilian of Mexico. The Brussels correspondent of the Newcastle Chronicle states that the ex-empress appears at last to have reached the end of the acute stage of her long martyrdom. It has lasted forty years in almost one continuous series of scenes of nervous excitement and passionate emotion of the most painful kind. All these years of cruel mental torture have been spent at the Belgian royal country house of Bouchout, which the present king of the Belgians, the ex-empress's brother, allotted for her residence on her reason giving way. For three years now she has lived in a state of almost rational calm. Her health is good, and hopes are entertained that the lifelong storm is past—London Globe.

"BARRIOS DIAMONDS"

The term "Barrios Diamonds," as applied to a kind of brilliant of imitation diamonds advertised in the newspapers of the metropolitan cities of this country, is familiar to the public, but the derivation of the term is probably known to but few. The term is of comparatively recent origin and has no connection at all with the articles it now designates. A few years ago Madame Barrios, the wife of the president of Guatemala, came to this country and brought with her what was supposed to be a larger and more valuable collection of diamonds than was ever seen in the United States before. They were claimed to represent a large fortune and probably still living, is the daughter of an American woman, and was born in New Orleans about thirty years ago. She met Jose Maria Reina Barrios in New York while he was in exile from Guatemala, having belonged to a revolutionist party which for a time was defeated. He brought money enough with him to live in great splendor with his wife. They removed to San Francisco and there he intrigued so successfully that he was recalled to Guatemala and in 1895 was made dictator. He developed the resources of the republic and fearing a crisis, turned the bulk of his property into jewels and sent his wife to San Francisco with a fortune estimated at ten millions. Madame Barrios was a beautiful woman and she attracted world-wide attention by the magnificence of her costumes and the extravagance of her taste. The Barrios diamonds became celebrated and they were adopted by a manufacturer as a trade mark. He amassed over a million dollars by putting out a peculiar counterfeit. Before Dictator Barrios could join his wife, he was surprised in Guatemala and assassinated. She was then the wealthiest woman in her own right in America. Battered and carressed she became a prey to investors of all sorts and her fortune soon melted away. In the meantime she had contracted unfortunate habits and recently the unhappy Algeria de Reina Barrios was brought up before a police court magistrate in London, England, charged with gross intoxication. It was a pitiable sight. She told her story in court and her beauty and the pathos of her situation pleaded powerfully for her. The court missionary confirmed her story and said that she had been in the hands of Lady Henry Somerset and of different temperance organizations, but all to no purpose. She was remanded to prison by the magistrate and her friends are now endeavoring to have her sent back to New Orleans to her mother. What a romance is this. The wife of a dictator of a sovereign state, and a queen in society, possessed of millions in her own right, beautiful, educated and accomplished; and ending as a gutter drunkard, all within less than ten years. The story of the original Barrios diamonds, as we glean it from an exchange, eclipses in point of dramatic interest the story of the Count of Monte Cristo.—Exchange.

HEALTHY PLANTS

Requires the Most Careful Attention as well as Good Soil.
Did you ever see a rosebush which, despite the most beneficent environment of soil and sunshine, still, of atmosphere, seemed never to achieve a healthy growth?

A ton of manure will not help a plant that has a canker eating out its heart. You must destroy the cause before you can remove the effect.

You cannot cure Dandruff and Baldness by rubbing on hair lotions, and rubbing in vasoline, etc.

You must look to the cause of the trouble—it's a germ at the roots of your hair which causes it to fall out. Newbro's Hairpils destroy the germ, and healthy hair is the sure result.

Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c in stamps for sample to The Hairpils Co., Detroit, Mich.

All coal may look alike to you, but the burning of it will show that there's a big difference in quality.

"Ideal" coal is the best soft coal the world produces. It is perfectly uniform in quality. Every ounce contains exactly the same reliable heat producing elements as every other ounce. It's free from foreign matter. Practically no clinkers whatever. Nothing but pure, concentrated heat and just a sprinkling of ashes.

To tell the truth, we did not blunder into "Ideal" coal by accident. We inspected and tested hundreds of kinds of coal before we found "Ideal." We wanted the BEST for our customers—and now we have it.

Fill your bin to the brim with "Ideal" coal right now. You'll not regret it. At present prices it's a gilt-edged investment. $2.75 per ton, cash for July delivery. Order soon to day.

PRIDE IN OUR CITY.

A chance remark of one of the visitors in our city, called here by the contests at the golf grounds, very forcibly illustrates a change in the spirit of our people in the last few years. "You people are stuck on your town, its beauties, its streets and your park." And its true. Where the average citizen would begin to apologize for the shortcomings of his home town a few years ago, now he is full of pride, has no excuses to offer and promptly begins to speak of the beauties of the place, and of the many improvements in streets, in the buildings and in the homes. What city of its population or even greater, can boast of as clean streets as we have here in Jacksonville? Or of a greater number of miles of paving, completed and ordered? Or of a greater victory than the vote on ordering the levying a park tax? Three to one of those voting were believers in our city and full of the spirit of public improvement that in a few years more will land our town in the front rank of the cities of the state.

A SEVERE TEST

The use of extremely hot drinks and of ice water on our tables is productive of disastrous results to the teeth. The use of the icy fluid and the hot so closely following it makes a severe test, and the dentist must be consulted in time, to save painful work. Don't delay. Examination free.

WHAT WAS THE DEAL?

(Peoria Star)
Now the question arises, what sort of a deal was behind Parker's dispatch? He had previously refused to express himself on the subject of the currency. He had made the open avowal embodied in his message he would have been defeated. There must have been some pressure from Wall street brought to bear on this good trick at so late an hour. There is always an under current in politics that is not apparent on the surface, and certainly this action is the queerest thing that has ever happened in American politics. It is not to be explained by a sudden impulse of honesty on the part of Mr. Parker. If he had been so thoroughly honest he would have made this revelation days before the convention sat.

WILL HAVE OVERHEAD SWITCHES.

Chicago, July 20.—A new form of overhead switches will be tried by the Wabash railroad in Illinois and wires for the purpose are now being placed between the stations of Brisbane, Monticello and Knights. The switches are something new in railroad appliances and are being used on the Wabash for the first time. They are placed at the outer ends of lap sidings and give the telegraph operator absolute control of the switches. No train or engine crew can open a switch to let a train in or out of a siding until the switch has been released by the operator who can also control the inner switches of the lap siding because of the nearness of his office. The switches are electrically controlled and not electrically operated. The switch is a ground thrown switch of the ordinary type. The electrical lock will prevent a train from going out of the sidetrack until the operator knows that the track is clear.

ARTICLE BY CLEVELAND.

New York, July 20.—"Steady, Democrats, Steady," is the title of an article by Grover Cleveland which is to be printed in Colliers July 22. Cleveland lauds the action of Parker in sending his "gold telegram" to the St. Louis convention and expresses his satisfaction with the platform.
"No action of the Democracy's representatives assembled in the late convention," he says, "can be construed in any other way than as an acknowledgment of the establishment of the gold standard and a willing pledge to its maintenance." He insists that "in refusing to indulge any further free silver or double standard vagaries the convention did not, on account of existing conditions, merely make a virtue of necessity, but that it voiced, instead, an actual and wholesome change in sentiment among the rank and file of Democracy."

AS A MATTER OF PUBLIC INTEREST AND INFORMATION AS TO TRAIN SERVICE TO ESOPUS.

The Home of the Democratic Presidential Nominee.

Esopus is on the river division of the West Shore railroad, sixty-one miles from Albany, and all the great through trains over the New York Central make connection at Albany with West Shore trains for Esopus. And in addition to West Shore local trains stopping at that point, it has been arranged to stop all through trains to land or pick up passengers.

WHAT TO DO UNTIL THE DOCTOR ARRIVES.

If it is a case of colic or cholera morbus give Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, and you will have no need of a doctor. For sale by all leading druggists.

DEATH RECORD

Middleton H. Bench died at the home of Mrs. John Ewing in Eureka, Ill., Tuesday, at the age of 74 years. Deceased was born in Scott county and for many years made his home with Mr. and Mrs. John Ewing on South Main street, in this city. He was unmarried. Funeral services were held in Eureka Wednesday afternoon at 4 o'clock. The remains will be brought to this city this morning on the 9:31 train via the Alton and will be laid to rest in Diamond Grove cemetery.

Cut prices to clear out all surplus stocks—big sale now, on at the O. K. store.

CARD PARTY.

Mrs. O. L. Hill was the hostess at a most delightful afternoon card party given at the Country club Wednesday afternoon. The function was given in honor of her guest, Mrs. Robert Shaw, of Swickley, Pa., and progressive euchre was the game played. The decorations were very artistic and green and white prevailed in the color scheme. The card game was carried out in the score cards and the ice cream was served in the form of a pack of cards.

JULY TWENTY-NINTH

The Nickel Plate road will run an excursion to Chautauque Lake, N. Y., and return at one fare for the round trip ($14.00) from Chicago, with return limit of Aug. 30th, by depositing ticket. No excess fare charged on any train on the Nickel Plate road. Cheap rates to other eastern points. Three daily trains, with vestibule sleeping cars. Individual club meals, ranging in price from 35c to $1.00; also service at la carte, and midday luncheon 50c, in Nickel Plate dining cars. Write John Y. Calhoun, general agent, 113 Adams St., room 208, Chicago, for particulars. Chicago city ticket offices, 111 Adams street and Auditorium Annex.

SMITH GETS PLUM.

There is no need of aspiring Republicans wasting any more sleep about the question of a collector to succeed the late I. R. Mills, and they can also save postage if they have any intention of corresponding about it. According to the Chicago Inter Ocean the matter has already been settled and Colonel F. L. Smith, of Dwight, will fill the office.

The following special dispatch was sent from Stator to the Inter Ocean: "Stator, Ill., July 17.—Colonel Frank L. Smith of Dwight, will fill the office."

The following special dispatch was sent from Stator to the Inter Ocean: "Stator, Ill., July 17.—Col. Frank L. Smith, of Dwight, who is said to have been offered the position of internal revenue collector for the southern Illinois district, was in Stator to day. Asked as to the truth of the rumor, he replied that Senator Cullom had voluntarily tendered him the place, although he had not really been a candidate, and that he will accept."

SOUTH DAKOTA DEMOCRATS.

A. B. Chamberlain, of Howard, representing the old gold Democracy, as opposed to the newer element, which sent Hearst delegates to the St. Louis convention, was defeated for temporary chairman of the Democratic State convention to day, T. M. Simmons, of Huron, being selected. It is asserted ex-Governor Lee declined to accept the nomination for governor.

The convention nominated the following ticket:

Governor—L. N. "Will" Elkpoint.

Lieutenant governor—Fred S. Rowe.

Secretary of state—John S. Wade, Brown county.

Auditor—M. M. Bennett, Yankton.

Superintendent of schools—Miss Emily Meade, Charles Mix county.

Attorney general—Olaf Eldorn, Brookings.

Railroad commissioner—F. A. Palmer, Toledo.

Treasurer—P. F. McClure, Hughes.

Commissioner of public lands—H. Peever, Roberts.

Electors—James Philip, Stanley county; John L. Bean, Douglass; Capt. S. E. Egan, Fall River; Dr. H. C. Burch, Spink.

Congressmen—William A. Lynch, Beadle county; Wesley A. Stuart, Meade county.

Supreme court judges—U. S. G. Cherry, Minnehaha county; Chauncey Wood, Rapid City; F. G. Pohnl, Clark.

CHAIRMAN CORTELYOU.

Philadelphia, July 20.—George B. Cortelyou, chairman of the Republican national committee, held several conferences here to day and returned to Washington this evening. He refused to talk politics until after notification of President Roosevelt of his nomination July 27.

MAY STRIKE MONDAY.

Fall River, Mass., July 20.—Thirty thousand cotton mill operatives will strike next Monday unless managers abandon announced intention to inaugurate a scale of wages that would reduce earnings of employees 12 1/2 per cent.

Fred McDougall has gone to St. Louis to attend the funeral of his cousin, Miss May Parsons.

Peoria, July 18.—Local capitalists are almost certain to make arrangements to take up the Peoria franchise in the Central league, which was forfeited to day.

CATHEDRAL ON WHEELS.

Device Used in a Minister's Religious Campaign.

The "people's cathedral" will become a familiar sight on the streets of Duluth, Minn., the present summer, says the Duluth Herald. It is being used by Rev. William Asher, president of the Duluth Bethel society, and his assistants as a sort of church on wheels and assists materially in prosecuting the vigorous and novel religious campaign which Mr. Asher has started in what appears to be a successful attempt to reach the masses.

The church on wheels will have different routes during the summer. A regular stand, weather permitting, will be made every Sunday evening at the corner of Superior street and Second avenue west, where Mr. Asher will address the outdoor congregation.

The covered wagon will probably also be used to carry Mr. Asher and his assistants to the ball and circus grounds or wherever an outdoor crowd is assembled. It is not the minister's aim to intrude where he is not wanted, however, and he will at no time appear at such a gathering without the permission of those having the affair in charge. And when there it will not be his purpose to tire his hearers with a long and tiresome harangue. On such occasions he speaks rationally and in such a manner that his hearers become interested at once.

The minister is ably assisted in the work by Mrs. Asher, who accompanies him on most of his expeditions. She has a pleasing voice and never fails to delight the rough men with her songs. She carries with her to the street and saloon meetings a small organ, the music of which makes the services more attractive and churchlike.

Mr. Asher does not confine his efforts to Duluth alone, but occasionally pays a visit to a nearby town for the purpose of holding services.

HOUSE FOR FIFTY CENTS.

Philadelphia Woman Drags Lucky Number at Church Raffle.

Several of Mrs. John P. Brown's neighbors aroused her before breakfast with the pleasing intelligence that she had become the owner of a $3,000 house in Philadelphia on an investment of 50 cents.

Mrs. Brown, who lives in Philadelphia, didn't believe it at first. After demanding proof and getting it she invited all hands to breakfast and rejoiced greatly, says a Philadelphia dispatch.

Mrs. Brown purchased two tickets awhile ago in a raffle for a new brick house of eight rooms at 1217 Porter street, which was being disposed of by the congregation of the Church of the Epiphany, at Eleventh and Jackson streets.

"My niece was on the committee," said Mrs. Brown, "and she gave me no rest until I had bought the tickets. I put them aside and thought no more about it. I had to hunt a long time this morning before I found the ticket after they told me I had won the house. I shall rent it. The rent will come in handy."

A THOUSAND MILE WALK.

Better to Carry Message From Belleville, N. J., to Albany, Ga.

With a pet cat and a dog as companions, Peter Deighan, a well known character of Belleville, N. J., left at noon the other day to walk to Albany, Ga., on a wager of $100 with the members of the North End club, from whose headquarters he started, says the New York Tribune. He will have to walk about 1,000 miles. Deighan is to deliver a message to Cornelius McGunagle, a former resident of Belleville, who runs a hotel in the southern city. He will have his expenses paid back to Jersey. Deighan should leave the town without a cent in his pockets, and is not to beg food or clothes, but may accept unsolicited gifts.

Deighan's companions were gayly trimmed with ribbons. The dog, Ike Snyder, is of the poodle variety, while the kitten, which is called Mollie Durkin, is only a few weeks old, but is expected to bring in considerable wealth for its owner, as it has seven toes on each of its feet.

Two years ago Deighan walked through every county in New Jersey and part of New York on a wager under similar conditions. He won the bet, but he did not get the money, as the man with whom he made the agreement died before Deighan reached Belleville.

Orchid's Great Freshness.

An Englishman visiting the St. Louis world's fair recently wore in his buttonhole an orchid that had been plucked nearly two months and was still fresh and green. He called his floral ornament an "everlasting" buttonhole, and stated that it was the latest fad in London. The flower is a new variety of the orchid, which has the useful merit of remaining fresh for sixty days after being plucked.

Side Crease to the Trouser.

A feature of style said to have been introduced by King Edward is to have the creases in the trousers at the side and leg seam instead of back and front, says the London Tailor and Cutter. In London already a few west end dandies have adopted this plan, but as the effect of this innovation is to produce a thicker appearance to the leg we do not anticipate any general adoption of this fashion.

Jap Officers and Men Fare Alike.

The Japanese officers in campaign have exactly the same fare as the private soldiers, says London Truth. Marshal Yamagata himself, when commanding nine years ago in China, had no better.

A LONG DISTANCE DIPLOMAT.

John Barrett, the recently appointed minister to the Argentine and subsequently transferred to Panama, is perhaps the champion long-distance traveler of the diplomatic service. In the year just closed, while on a world-touring mission as commissioner general for the St. Louis exposition, he covered not less than 50,000 miles. The year previous he went to South America as delegate to the Pan-American congress. In 1901 he traveled the United States, addressing the most important chambers of commerce in the country. In 1900 he went around the world. In 1899 he traveled from the Philippines to Vladivostok, to Japan and through India. The year previous he spent in the Philippines and along the Chinese coast, a frequent and much-sought guest at important social and commercial functions in the Anglo-Chinese cities of Asia. Previous to 1888, as minister to Siam, he visited the important cities of the east, and before entering the diplomatic service he traveled around the world as a newspaper correspondent. His feats as an earth-girdler were but incidental to the building up of a successful career, physical vitality and an active brain.

Mr. Barrett is a man who does things. He is an eloquent and convincing public speaker, a forceful writer and a public-spirited, aggressive American, loyal to the highest ideals of citizenship. He is the kind of a man Roosevelt likes and the sort of an American that adds luster to the diplomatic service—an athletic, robust, strenuously intellectual and vigorously active twentieth-century American—Outing for July.

SEVERELY BURNED.

Miss Florence Melton, daughter of J. A. Melton, was severely scalded Wednesday morning by the overturning of a coffee pot. She was assisting her mother in preparing breakfast, when the boiling contents of the coffee pot were spilled over her neck and right shoulder. From last reports the young lady was resting as easily as could be expected.

ANOTHER DAY ON THE LINKS

SOME GOOD SCORES MADE WEDNESDAY

Na Muckle Doon Contest Starts to Day—Special Event for This Morning—The Program for to Day.

Some fine scores were made in the second day's play of the central Illinois golf tournament, but the record of the course still remains unbroken. Several players have equalled the record of 40, and J. A. Herring, of Quincy, negotiated eighteen holes in consecutive play in 81, which equals the medal score of Marcy Osborne. The medal score was made in the afternoon when Mr. Herring was paired with Mr. F. L. Ledford in the championship cup contest.

The results of the play yesterday were as follows:

Following was the result in the second contest in the championship contest:

Best, of Jacksonville, defeated

Ames, of Jacksonville; 3 up.

Hubble, of Springfield, won from White, of Champaign; by default.

Matheny, of Springfield, defeated Hayden, of Jacksonville; 6 up.

Walcott, of Quincy, defeated W. Allen, of Springfield; 4 up.

E. Coleman, of Springfield, won from Rutter, of Springfield; by default.

Whitney, of Quincy, won from Bellatti, of Jacksonville; by default.

Capps, of Jacksonville, won from Farrell, of Jacksonville; by default.

Jack, of Peoria, defeated Vickery, of Jacksonville; 5 up.

Heidrick, of Peoria, won from Waddell, of Jacksonville; by default.

Those who won in the above contest for the Nil Desperandum cup will to day play the winners in order next below them.

In the approaching and putting contest the result was a tie between Wilms, of Quincy, and Hubble, of Springfield, and the tie will be decided to day.

There will be a two-hole match played this morning at 8 o'clock, the two holes aggregating a distance of 700 yards each and all participants in the match are requested to report for play promptly at 8 o'clock this morning, as it is the desire of the management to have this contest finished by 9 o'clock, the hour set for beginning the regular program.

GOLF NOTES.

E. M. Botsford, editor of the Quincy Herald, and Miss Katherine Botsford are here attending the golf tournament. Mr. Botsford played in the championship cup contest yesterday and won his match in the morning, and in the afternoon was two up in his game with W. Arnold, of Galesburg.

George Chatterton made two 40's yesterday, but not in consecutive play.

Wilfred Ayers played a fine game yesterday and in one round made five holes in 22. This score was made in the last round of the afternoon play, and as Mr. Ayers was up on his opponent he did not finish, as he desired to participate in the approaching putting contest.

Musselman, of the Quincy team, is among the number who have turned in a 40 score for 9 holes. The score was made in the play yesterday afternoon.

J. A. Herring, Quincy, played a remarkably steady game yesterday and his medal score of 81 by holes was as 5-5-4-4-4-5-40. In the first round, at the eighth hole, Mr. Herring sliced his drive and to play out of the wire bunker it required seven strokes to negotiate the ninth hole. In the second round, at the third hole, his opponent laid him a dead styxie, which gave him the hole in five, when he should have had it in four.

There were many excellent contests yesterday and one of the best and closest was between Dr. Center, of Quincy, and Marcy Osborne. In the afternoon play they were tied at the seventeenth hole and Osborne won the eighteenth hole by 1 up.

JAPANESE ARMS AND AMMUNITION.

WILLIAM H. BRUMENSTEIN in North American Review For July.

No European or American gunpowder plant is as complete, on as grand a scale, as thoroughly up to date, as convenient and practical as the Japanese government plant at Meguro, near Tokyo, for the manufacture of all kinds of ordnance and blasting powders. The broad brow of a hill, falling rather steeply down on one side into a swampy rice field, has been utilized for the purpose with consummate skill.

The plant is patrolled by a detachment of soldiers, who also assist at the proving tests on the well equipped grounds set apart for this purpose. Each manipulation in the manufacturing process has its full allotment of space, yet not a foot is wasted. The buildings are massive, suitable for the purpose, neat and well kept, but without a trace of anything superfluous. Along the main street, which runs the entire length of the factory grounds, is laid out a narrow gauge railroad, and overhead you see the wire rope power transmission connecting all departments. In spite of all this the picture is unmistakably Japanese, not only because of the turned up corners of the massive roofs and the graceful outlines of the supports of the transmission, which are of mason work, but because of a hundred little details in the treatment of each section. I will only mention the little cascade in which a streamlet falls down the hill, the waters of which are required for the manufacturing process. The land adjoining this hill used to be swampy rice fields. Now it is drained and reclaimed, and the buildings for the heavy machinery and presses are located in this section, reared on earthquake proof piles.

Military precision reigns supreme, and in spite of the working of powerful engines and all the humming of wheels and stamping of crushers and all the other noises of a busy industrial establishment, which turns out some five to six thousand pounds of finished material every day, and gives occupation to half a thousand workmen, the picture is a serene one, free from the smut and dirt of labor. Free also from unpleasant memories, for there has never yet been an untoward explosion or fatality, such as blurs the records of many a similar institution under Caucasian management. Faithful devotion and strict obedience bring about unremitting attention to duty and thereby preclude disasters, which generally are traceable to somebody's negligence.

That Japan now produces her own saltpeter in artificial plantations in sufficient quantities for her needs is well known. Sulphur is found in abundance, as in any volcanic region, and the material for charcoal is also provided for. Guano, which yields the best charcoal for powder purposes, does not thrive in Japan, but there are plenty of alders, which furnish the next best grade. Large groves of this tree cover the old lava beds on the slopes of the Fujiyama. The logs were treated according to all the rules of the art, but the wood was of so great a density, and its fibrous construction so intricate, owing to the extremely slow growth in the unyielding soil, that the charcoal made from it could be disintegrated and reduced to a granular powder only with the utmost difficulty and with but indifferent success. No sooner had the government been informed of this fact than a search was made throughout the land for something better than the alders of Fujiyama, and it was discovered that on the islands of Oki, on the northern shore of Dai Nippon, in the sea of Japan, there flourished splendid alders, of rapid growth and finely fibred, porous wood. Experiments proved this variety to yield an ideally good charcoal for the manufacture of powder. Immediately a forestry station was established on the islands to take care that the supply of this wood should never be exhausted. Here, then, we have the three chief ingredients of black and brown gunpowder—saltpeter, sulphur and charcoal—abundantly produced in the country.

The powder factory at Iwahana, which lies in the direction of Nikko, was built by the Japanese, without assistance from foreigners, after the model of Meguro, but on a larger scale. It is also well equipped with all the apparatus and machinery for the elaboration of the raw materials and the manufacture of ordnance powder, as well as all kinds of blasting powder for engineering and mining purposes. It supplies the Hokkaido—i. e., the northern provinces of Dai Nippon and the islands lying in that direction.

Udji, the powder works of the south, where the specialty is smokeless powder, has the very finest distillery for the alcohol required in the manufacturing process. I have, without any exception, seen anywhere. Here, also, is a complete plant for the manufacture of gunpowder, where the raw material of domestic or imported growth is picked, cleaned, dried and passed through the various complicated, and in many stages rather perilous, manipulations of nitration. The army of workmen move about with the precision of clockwork, under the eyes of numerous foremen, inspectors and superintendents, and accidents are almost and fatalities entirely unknown.

Three million yen (about $1,500,000) have been expended in the construction and equipment of this plant. In times of peace about 400 men and 200 girls find here steady employment. All of the buildings are of framework, with cement floorings. The alcohol, by the way, is made from grain, corn, rye, wheat and barley, raised on the numerous agricultural experiment stations, after American patterns, which are scattered over the fertile Hokkaido, in which the Japanese husbandman obtains valuable instruction in modern methods of farming. In every direction is manifested the ambition to make Japan independent of the outside world.

By far the most important of all establishments of this kind is the imperial powder plant at Itabashi, which is again located in close proximity to the capital. This is practically an experiment station where the merits of new inventions and discoveries are investigated and put to a practical test. It is of all plants the most complete, making every kind of ordnance powder—viz., black, brown and smokeless (grains, pellets, tube or macaroni, cordite, etc.)—for armaments of all sizes up to the largest. Its chemical laboratories and the apparatus for the numerous auxiliary processes and manipulations are most complete, practical and efficient. As a matter of course, it is seldom that a foreigner is admitted within the high gate. All the officials, from the director down, are natives, and concerning them I want to say that not only the chiefs of the various departments, but their assistants as well, are highly trained experts, each of whom has spent several years at European and American universities, acquiring a thorough mastery of his specialty and getting his mental horizon widened to the farthest extent, so that he might return to his country exceptionally well fitted for the position he was to fill. Scientists of the first rank, who anywhere else would be hailed as stars of the first magnitude, work here unknown to fame, satisfied to devote their untiring genius and knowledge to the welfare and the glory of their country, not with blind fanaticism, but with the enthusiasm of conviction, the noble fire of the idealist. The individual counts for nothing; the country, the emperor, for everything.

Meguro, Iwahana, Udji and Itabashi are under the superintendence of the war department, while the navy department is more especially supplied by the factory at Oji, whose specialty is smokeless powder for naval guns and the charges for the projectiles intended for explosion with lyddite effect. The establishment is situated a little to the north of Tokyo and is of very recent creation. It is planned on the very largest scale, and it is needless to add that here, too, are found all the admirable features embodied in the other plants.

In Tokyo itself is located the arsenal for small arms—rifles, complete with bayonets; small field guns and submers for the cavalry. It is housed in the fortlike residence of an old time provincial governor or daimio, and the original moat and rampart that protected the estate in turbulent times are still preserved. The age of the place can be surmised from the venerable old sycamores that have grown on the very crest of the wall. The buildings lie in the center of an exquisite old Japanese garden, full of delightful nooks and picturesque vistas, fine old trees rising out of a mass of flowering shrubbery and mossy rocks, reflected in pellucid sheets of water through which goldfish dart in all directions, or velvet lawns, glittering cascades, graceful bridges over pretty streamlets.

The beautifully proportioned, wide halls, in which feudal lords once dwelt in state, are now filled with machinery, shafting and belting, and the hum and rattle of mills and lathes, of planer and hammer, of gearing and saws. One section is given up to the manufacture of rifle barrels, all of small caliber. The blanks for these are mostly imported in the required length and size, so that they have only to be bored and grooved. In another section the rifle stocks are made; in a third, the small parts of the weapon are produced and assembled. Still another section furnishes the bayonets, and when the rifles are complete and adjusted they are taken to the proving grounds, where a corps of sharpshooters systematically tests each one. Those which prove to be not absolutely perfect are returned to the factory to be reworked; the accepted ones are stamped and sent to the magazines to be stored for future use. The capacity of the arsenal, in times of peace, is 500 complete rifles per day of ten working hours, with facilities for quadrupling the output by working day and night.

All this constitutes only one part of the establishment. There are a suber factory and a plant for the manufacture of ammunition used in rifles and guns, and the capacity of this is proportionate to that of the other section. The heavy artillery guns (Artsuka's model), howitzers, mortars, long barreled guns and cannons for the navy and for coast defense, as well as the shells or projectiles for these, are cast at the arsenal of Osaka. Most of the big lathes and milling machines and drills, as well as the cranes and derricks for the handling of the huge pieces, are of Japanese construction, made after small imported models.

Osaka, the second city of the empire, which is often called the Japanese Manchester, lies on a rather shallow bay and is therefore accessible from the sea only by small, light draft vessels, so that no transoceanic shipping can be done from there. To facilitate the transportation of heavy castings and big guns a canal has been dug for the exclusive use of the arsenal, starting within its grounds, passing under the heavy rampart and going through a rather secluded section of the country to the sea coast.

A section of the grounds is given up to the harness and saddlery works and to the manufacture of bits and stirrups and all the other parts of the harness as used by the artillery and cavalry. In other words, these two branches of the army are supplied here with all their accoutrements.

ALL OVER THE HOUSE.

Sanitary and Labor Saving Method of Washing Dishes.

A correspondent of the Boston Globe thus describes an easy and sanitary way of washing dishes: "I use the pulp or fiber web instead of enamel or tin for dishpan, and when I am doing it myself I gather dishes from the table, placing the least soiled in the dishpan, which is filled with very hot water and a little borax. The only soap used comes from agitating a shaker so that small pieces of soap are in this way used up. The dishes remain in the water until I finish everything else in the dining room; then I turn out the water, fill with clean hot water and wash, rinsing each dish in clear boiling water. They are all placed in a dish drainer and are dry, ready to put away, in a few moments, without wiping, which is far more cleanly and saves much time. Knives and forks are the only things wiped. It also saves dish towels, as there is little or no wear and tear upon them in this way. The few minutes they lie soaking in the water make the washing simple and they shine 'like diamonds' when dry."

Shine the Tinware.

Most housekeepers find that polishing the tinware is the rock upon which kitchen harmony often founders. Unless one can capture a native Scandinavian or Teuton to whom this work is part of her accustomed routine an excellent plan is to have a dishpan full of hot soda suds on the back of the range and drop in each utensil after using. By the time the meal has been served and the other dishes washed these pieces will be found to "have shined themselves," as it were. They will require nothing but a thorough rinsing with hot water and a vigorous rubbing with a coarse crash towel to keep them brilliant indefinitely.

Currant Shrub.

This is one of the most cooling and refreshing of summer drinks and is said to be specially beneficial in cases of liver trouble. Stem red currants, wash thoroughly and place in a stone jar set in a kettle of hot water. Cook until the juice is well extracted, then put in a flannel bag to drain. For each pint of the clear juice allow a pound of granulated sugar, and boil together ten minutes. Bottle while hot. Many prefer to add a gill of the best brandy to each pint of the liquid before bottling. To prepare it as a beverage allow two tablespoonfuls of the shrub to each glass of cold water.

ONE LADY'S RECOMMENDATION SOLD FIFTY BOXES OF CHAMBERLAIN'S STOMACH AND LIVER TABLETS.

I have, I believe, sold fifty boxes of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets on the recommendation of one lady here, who first bought a box of them about a year ago. She never tires of telling her neighbors and friends about the good qualities of these Tablets.—P. M. Shore, Druggist, Rochester, Ind. The pleasant purgative effect of these Tablets makes them a favorite with ladies everywhere. For sale by all leading druggists.

What Mrs. Stanley Wrote.

The death of Stanley recalls many anecdotes not only of the great explorer, but of his beautiful widow, who was Miss Dorothy Tennant. She and her sister were brought into some unenviable notoriety by E. F. Benson's "Dodo," which one of them is said to have inspired. While the novel was the rage the author wrote to Miss Tennant:

Dear Miss Tennant—The whole world is talking about you and about my book. When may I call?

For reply he was told:

Dear Mr. Benson—Have you really written a book? How sweet of you! Call any time.

But she was never at home.

A TEXAS WONDER.

One small bottle of the Texas Wonder, Hall's Great Discovery, cures all kidney and bladder troubles, removes gravel, cures diabetes, seminal emissions, weak and lame backs, rheumatism and all irregularities of the kidneys and bladder in both men and women; regulates bladder troubles in children. If not sold by your druggist it will be sent by mail on receipt of $1. One small bottle is two months' treatment and seldom fails to perfect a cure. Dr. E. W. Hall, sole manufacturer, P. O. box 629, St. Louis, Mo. Send for testimonials. Sold by J. A. Obermeyer, City Drug Store.

READ THIS:

Jacksonville, Ill., Aug. 24, 1901.—For twelve years I have suffered from great diabetes and have spent hundreds of dollars with various doctors, with but little benefit. I was recommended to try a bottle of Texas Wonder, Hall's Great Discovery, and with cheerful testimony to the public that it did me more good than all things else put together and am altogether another man. I have persuaded many of my friends to try it. JOHN E. DAVEY, Grocer. J. A. OBERMEYER, City Drug Store.

The Stadium at Athens.

The restoration of the famous Stadium of Athens, begun in 1895 with funds given by a Greek merchant, has progressed until they are now placing the last of the 52,000 marble seats which the great amphitheater contains. The seats, railings, etc., are all of the creamy white Pentelikon marble. It is the intention of the committee having the restoration in charge to build a marble propylaea, or entrance, resembling the ancient one. Some urge the finishing of the outer walls of the Stadium by surmounting them with a marble colonnade. When the propylaea will be commenced is not known.

The Storks' Nest.

A real estate man in Alton, Ill., has just completed a big flat building which he named the Storks' Nest. Tenants with children are given preference. The owner announced that the new apartments were exclusively for married people and that the presence of children would be a recommendation instead of a bar to acceptance as tenants. He has decided to set an example to other landlords by providing a place so that couples may live without being in fear of eviction or increase in rent if there is an increase in the size of their families.

The Scotch Lorenz.

William Rae, a Scotch miner living at Blantyre, near Glasgow, has won fame as the Scotch Lorenz. He repudiates the theory of diseased bone and practices bloodless surgery with a success that has brought him patients from far and near. Some of his cures, especially of humpbacked children, spinal curvature and dislocated hip, read almost like miracles, and some have suggested that he has superhuman power, though he makes no claim to the kind himself.

The Anticosti Enterprise.

The Anticosti enterprise has been given up by Menier, the Paris "chocolate king." He bought the island athwart the mouth of the St. Lawrence some years ago, intending to make lobster fishing, the only industry ever carried on there, profitable and to fill its forests with game. But after spending a million and a half dollars he got tired of it.

TREAT YOUR KIDNEYS FOR RHEUMATISM.

When you are suffering from rheumatism the kidneys must be attended to at once so that they will eliminate the uric acid from the blood. Foley's Kidney Cure is the most effective remedy for this purpose. R. T. Hopkins, of Polar, Wis., says: "After unsuccessfully doctoring three years for rheumatism with the best doctors, I tried Foley's Kidney Cure and it cured me. I cannot speak too highly of this great medicine." Sold by J. A. Obermeyer, City Drug Store.

Laundering Linens.

An experienced embroiderer gives this piece of advice about laundering embroidered linens: Always wash a piece for the first time before cutting it out. After washing, stretch on a smooth board, which has been covered first with a piece of plain linen, tacking the embroidery quite securely and smoothly. Leave overnight, laying the board flat, lest the color runs.

To Clean Paint.

Squeeze a clean cloth out of hot water, dip it in whitening and with this rub the paint till dirt is removed. Rinse well with clean water, dry with a soft cloth, and polish with a chamois leather. Paint cleaned in this way looks like new, and the whitening will not injure even the most delicate colors.

SURE CURE FOR PILES.

Itching piles produce moisture and cause itching, this form as well as Blind, Bleeding or Protruding Piles are cured by Dr. Bo-sank's Pile Remedy. Stops itching and bleeding; absorbs tumors. 50c a jar at druggists or sent by mail. Treatise free. Write me about your case. Dr. Bo-sank, Philadelphia, Pa. For sale by Lee P. Allcott.

Crape Paper Sets.

Sets for summer, consisting of bureau scarfs, mantle scarfs and table covers, are made from crape paper napkins, having the single poinsettia flower in one corner or a bunch of thistles. The napkins are stitched together on the machine, over an interlining of thin cotton batting, lined in turn with white tissue paper. A fringe of slashed paper finishes the articles.

THE ORIGINAL.

Foley & Co., Chicago, originated Honey and Tar as a throat and lung remedy, and on account of the great merit and popularity of Foley's Honey and Tar many imitations are offered for the genuine. Ask for FOLEY'S Honey and Tar and refuse any substitute, as no other preparation will give the same satisfaction. It is mildly laxative. It contains no opiates and is safest for children and delicate persons. For sale by J. A. Obermeyer, City Drug Store.

Proper Care of Provisions.

Through carelessness and ignorance the loss is often great if the good things you provide for your larder are not properly taken care of after they are delivered. Salads and fresh greens should not be left to wilt in a hot kitchen.

Meat should be put immediately in a cool place and taken off the paper it is wrapped in. Butter and milk must be very carefully treated and always kept by themselves, as they get very quickly tainted with the taste of anything they are near.

Potatoes Finnegan.

Make a white sauce by melting two rounding tablespoonfuls of butter with one of flour, and when smooth and frothy pour in a scant pint of rich milk. Let this boil several minutes, stirring constantly, and season with pepper, salt and a little onion juice. Have ready a quart of cold diced potatoes and a cupful of carrots chopped coarsely. Mix potatoes and carrots and stir into the sauce.

WHEN OTHER MEDICINES HAVE FAILED.

take Foley's Kidney Cure. It has cured when everything else has disappointed. Sold by J. A. Obermeyer, City Drug Store.

80 PER CENT OF THE ADULT POPULATION SUFFER FROM ONE PAINFUL AILMENT.

Think what this means. Imagine the amount of misery that exists and is endured simply because people do not know there is an absolute cure.

The only way to cure any complaint is to remove the cause. There are very few diseases or ailments that can be cured by external application—and piles is not one of them. Piles can be cured; the treatment must, however, be internal, for the cause of piles is an internal disorder of the liver or the bowels. Even catarrh of the stomach and bowels can be cured by DR. PERRIN'S PILE SPECIFIC, The Internal Remedy. Here is an instance of what this practically infallible remedy will do:

Dr. C. A. Perrin, Helena, Mont.—Dear Sir: I have nearly finished the former bottle of Perrin's Pile Specific and am practically well. My case was one which most physicians would have pronounced incurable, as I was afflicted with a dysentery and compelled to go to the toilet room from three to five times each day and each time would bleed from one-half to one teaspoonful. I had to resort to bandages and absorbent cotton to check the flow of blood, and now the past ten or twelve days there has been no sign of bleeding and my appetite is good; have gained ten pounds in weight and feel like a new lease of life was given me.

Very truly yours,

T. K. HARRIS, Yerington, Nev.

October 20th, 1902. Dr. Perrin's Pile Specific is sold by all reliable druggists at $1.00 the bottle, under an absolute guarantee to refund the money should this great internal remedy fail to cure.

THE TRUNK SEWER.

Public Hearing Will be Held on the Proposition Monday, Aug. 8—Approximate Cost $200,000.

The public hearing on the proposition to construct a trunk sewer will probably be held on Aug. 8. At that time property owners will have a chance to appear before the board of public improvements to discuss the matter pro and con.

The proposed structure will be of brick and cement, varying from seven and six-tenths feet to eleven and four-tenths feet in width. It will follow the present direction of the brook rather closely, the sharp curves of the present course being cut out. It will be designed to carry all sewage and flood water.

The cost of the proposed improvement will be approximately $200,000. The assessments will extend over a period of twenty years. They will be levied on the property within the area which naturally drains to the brook, and that in which the sewage must drain in that direction. The cost will be assessed by the superficial foot, or the area of the property.

The property affected by this improvement is bounded as follows:

Beginning at the corner of Finley and West State street, east on West State to South Prairie; south on Prairie to Morgan; east on Morgan to Alley B; south on Alley B to Diamond alley; east on Diamond alley to Mauvaisterre street; north on Mauvaisterre street to Morgan; east on Morgan to Alley C; north on Alley C to East State street; east on State to East street; north on East street to Jordan alley; east on Jordan alley to Brown street; northeast to the junction of the Wabash and C. & A.; east on Wabash railroad to Johnson street; south on Johnson street to Routt street; west on Routt street to Brooklyn avenue; south on Brooklyn avenue to Henry street; west on Henry street to C. & A. railroad; south on C. & A. railroad to Superior avenue; west on Superior to Hardin avenue; south on Hardin avenue to Michigan avenue; west on south line of city limits, and north on the west line of the city limits to place of beginning.

The need of this improvement is becoming more pressing every year. The old sewer will not stand the pressure and is now broken in three places. Beside the old break on South East street, there is also one near South Main street, and another at Church street. The height of the water this summer has made it impossible to repair these breaks, but an endeavor will be made to remedy the trouble on South Church street to day.

CALLED BY DEATH

GEORGE E. DOYING PASSED AWAY WEDNESDAY

Was Editor and Publisher of the Courier and Grand President of I. O. M. A.—A Public Spirited Citizen and Widely Known.

George E. Doying, editor of the Illinois Courier, entered into rest Wednesday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock at his residence, 921 Grove street, after an acute illness lasting nine days.

Mr. Doying had been in failing health since last October and during the winter and spring suffered several very severe heart attacks. He seemed to gain strength with the approach of summer, however, and was at his office a week ago Monday and transacted business as usual. When he was taken ill the last time his friends had hoped he would rally, but his constitution had been so weakened by his previous sickness that from the first he was regarded as a very sick man. While many knew of his critical condition the news of his death came as a great shock to the community, where he was so widely known.

The passing of Mr. Doying removes from the active business life of Jacksonville, one of her most public spirited citizens, a man who was intensely interested in every new enterprise and who aided by word and deed in the promotion of any movement that advanced the interests of the city. He was a man who believed in progress and entered heartily into the spirit of any cause with which he was identified.

As the editor of the leading Democratic paper in Morgan county and vicinity he fought the battles of Democracy with earnestness and zeal, and was ever loyal to the principles he espoused.

As an editor and publisher, Mr. Doying always occupied a high place among his associates. His practical knowledge of the printing art contributed greatly to his success and his paper was ever conducted along consistent lines and with marked business ability.

During his career as an editor and publisher Mr. Doying has had a large number of men in his employ and, without exception, the relations between employer and employee were most pleasant and a feeling of mutual trust always prevailed.

In the fraternal circles of the state Mr. Doying occupied a high position, having been four times elected president of the Independent Order of Mutual Aid and at the time of his death was serving the second year of his fourth term. He was also editor of the I. O. M. A. Herald, the official organ of the order.

As a soldier he was fearless and served his country in the great civil crisis for four years. The only public office he ever held was during the Algeid administration, when he was treasurer of the State School for the Blind from 1892 to 1896.

Mr. Doying was especially interested in public improvements. He was an advocate of street paving, and it is a significant fact that three of the principal streets on which he lived were unpaved when he first took up his residence upon them and were each paved through the initiatory steps and persistent efforts put forth by him. This fact is particularly true of the Grove street pavement, which is just about to be completed. At the time of his death Mr. Doying was at work on a plan to have both sides of Grove street laid with concrete walks.

In his business relations and in his dealings with his fellow men he was always the soul of honor and enjoyed the confidence and esteem of the community.

George E. Doying was born Jan. 22, 1839, in Little Warwick, province of Quebec, Canada, and was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Doying. He was one of a family of thirteen children, only one of whom survive—a brother, Charles E. Doying, of Nashua, N. H.

At the age of 13 years he left home and made his way in the world by hiring out to farmers, working on a railroad and in various other ways until he reached the age of 18, when he entered a printing office in Pennsylvania as an apprentice. In 1861 he enlisted in Company B of the Sixth Pennsylvania volunteers and was discharged after three years' service as a corporal.

After the war he went to Washington, D. C., where he entered the government printing office. He had rooms opposite the Surratt residence and witnessed many of the scenes that were enacted around that residence after the Lincoln assassination.

In the year 1868 Mr. Doying came west and settled in Carlyle, Ill., where he was employed by Zophar Case, proprietor of the "Constitution and Union." A few years later, in company with Hardin Case, he purchased the paper and for eight years it was conducted by Doying & Case until 1876, when Mr. Doying sold his interest to Mr. Case. He then came to Jacksonville and purchased a third interest in the firm of T. D. Price & Co., publishers of the Weekly and Tri-Weekly Courier.

July 18, 1882, the partnership of Doying & Hinrichsen was formed and in March, 1883, this firm established the Daily Courier. In 1886 the partnership of Doying, Hinrichsen & Case was formed and in addition to the daily and weekly Courier the firm purchased the Quincy Daily Herald. Mr. Doying remained in Jacksonville and conducted the Courier, while his partners went to Quincy and operated the Herald. In 1890 the Herald was sold and in 1892 the partnership of Doying, Hinrichsen & Case was dissolved, and Mr. Doying became the sole proprietor of the Courier, which paper he has successfully edited and published ever since.

For many years Mr. Doying was actively identified with the fraternal order known as the Independent Order of Mutual Aid. In 1890 he was elected grand president of the order and served two terms of one year each. At the time of his death he was serving his second consecutive term of two years each. He was an ideal executive officer, and under his supervision and careful management the order has prospered and grown. In addition to the duties of president Mr. Doying edited the I. O. M. A. Herald, the official organ of the order, with marked success.

Mr. Doying was a former member of the library board and gave most efficient service at the time of the construction of the Carnegie library building. He was always interested in the old public library and worked for its welfare in many ways.

He was a member of the park commission and was in full sympathy with the movement in every way. He had served as president of the Business Men's association and was one of its most active members.

He held membership in many secret societies and was identified with Hospitaler commandery, Knights Templar, Odd Fellows, Knights of Pythias, Knights of Honor, Knights of Kohrassen and was the first Great Sachem of the old Red Men's lodge, instituted in this city many years ago.

Dec. 2, 1869, Mr. Doying was married to Miss Hattie Norris, of Carlyle, Ill., and their married life has been one of delightful companionship and mutual helpfulness. In addition to his wife, Mr. Doying is survived by seven children, four daughters and three sons: Mrs. E. A. Olds, of Chicago; Dr. Emma Doying, Mrs. F. P. Vickery and Miss Nell Doying, of this city; W. D. Doying, George E. Doying, Jr., and Charles F. Doying, also of this city.

Deeply beloved by his family, admired by his friends and honored with offices of trust and responsibility, George E. Doying has entered into the sleep that knows no awakening, leaving behind him a record of faithful service, filial devotion and the unmistakable marks of a successful life.
